22 On January 13, 2010, defendant Christopher Bryan Ablett appeared before the Court for a 23 status conference. Based on the parties' request for additional time to conduct investigation, 24 review/produce discovery, the Court set the next status conference for May 19, 2010. The parties
25 requested, and the Court ordered that the exclusion of time under the Speedy Trial Act so that the 26 Government could continue to produce discovery and so that the defendant could review
27 discovery and conduct an independent investigation. The parties agree that, given the possibility 28 of a sentence of death in this case, this case qualifies as an "unusual" or "complex" case under 18

1 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(7)(B)(i).

2 With the agreement of the parties and with the consent of the defendant, the Court
3 enters this order confirming the exclusion of time under the Speedy Trial Act from January 13, 4 2010, through May 19, 2010. The parties agree and stipulate, and the Court finds and holds, as 5 follows:

6 1. On January 13, 2010, defendant Christopher Bryan Ablett appeared before the 7 Court for a status conference. Based on the parties' request for additional time to conduct
8 investigation, review/produce discovery, the Court set the next status conference for May 19, 9 2010.

10 2. Accordingly, the Court finds that the ends of justice served by excluding the 11 period from January 13, 2010, to May 19, 2010, from Speedy Trial Act calculations outweighs
12 the interests of the public and the defendant to a speedy trial, by ensuring the effective 13 preparation of counsel, in accordance with 18 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(7)(A) and (B).
